Call for a Convention to Nominate State Officers.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., May 5.—The members of the Advisory Committee of the State Parmers' Association began to assemble in this city yesterday afternoon, preparatory to their Convention of to-day, in Phoenix Hall. They held an informal meeting at the Ashley House last night, the President, Mr. W. C. Flagg, of Madison County, in the chair. The Secretary, Mr. S. M. Smith, of Henry County, and the Treasurer, Mr. J. H. Pickerell, of Macon County, were at their respective posts.

The other members, to the number of about fifty, crowded the notel parlor, and ardently disnning of said representation entirely to agriculturists and horticulturists, but the majority appeared to favor the extension of the privilege to all "the industrial classes." Among those who prominently advocated the latter policy was Mr. S. M. Smith, who claimed that in no other way could the producing classes hope to combat monopoly. There were, he said, 200,000 enrolled members of industrial organizations in the State of Illinais—very nearly two-thirds of the number of votes cast at the last Presidential election. He protested against the idea of allowing representation at the coming State Convention on the basis of population, for then Cook County,—including Chicago,—and all the larger counties and cities would have an unwholesome preponderance in the councils of the people. An unwieldy convention would be the greatest possible evil that could beful them, for it would make too much noise and accomplish very little sterling work.

Dr. M. M. Hooton, of Centralia, proposed that the number of representatives at the Convenion be 204, the number of counties being 102. That would leave one representative from each county, and one additional in proportion to the organized industrial population of each county. This proposition was put in the shape of a resolution and discussed at great length.

Mr. W. C. Flagg said that the great object in view was to prevent demagogues from getting hold of the movement, to divert it to their own selfish ambitions. There was no use in beating the devil around the bush; the members were agraid of the agraid of the POLITICAL MACHINATIONS OF ONE MAN IN PARTICto whom there could be no technical objection, but who, nevertheless, was distrusted. He feared that the man to whom he alluded, and others like him, would not be sincere anti-monopolists. The opinion was freely expressed that the speaker referred to the mon. John Wentworth, of Cook County.

Several other gentlemen took the same view of the case, and, finally, the informal meeting, or cancus, adjourned without arriving at any

Mr. Pitapatrick, of McLeen, moved an amendment to the amendment, fixing the date of the Convention for June 16.

Several delegates from the southern part of the State complained that Electrication was too far away; they wanted some nearer place.

Prof. Miner, of Morgan, said that, if they expected to succeed at all, they must give up all minor questions relative to personal convenience; they must get their convention together, and their platform ready immediately. He should like to see the work done at once. Procreatination would only spoil their chances of victory.

JUNE 10 DECIDED UPOM.

The latter date, Wednesday, June 10. was, after much discussion, finally adopted for the meeting of the State Convention.

Mr. Gillem, of Madison, said that he had another amendment to offer to the resolution. The amendment was, that the Convention be held in the House of Representatives, at Springfield, so as to make it more contral, and bring it nearer the hearts of the people.

Mr. Lichty, of Carroll, said that the people of the northern part of the State were willing to meet the difficulty half way. The amendment was then carried by a large majority.

Prof. Minor asked for the reading of Mr. Boone is preamble and resolutions.

Mr. Boone said that the preamble was identical with that adopted at Decatur, and the two first resolutions word for word, only the date and place of meeting being changed. This appeared to give eatisfaction. Mr. Mead, of LaSalle, however, objected to the

as laid down in the Decatur platform and contained in Mr. Boone's resolutions. One delegate to 5,000 would make the Convention unmanageable. He moved to amend by making it read one delegate to every 10,000, and that every county, whether having the requisite population or not, be entitled to one delegate.

The Chair remarked that the original basis would give one delegate to Harding, and about 70 to Cook County.

Mr. Elliott was in favor of giving the most liberal representation possible; there was no use in being stingy about it. [Laughter.] Bureau County wanted a good crowd.

Mr. Minor, of Scott County, moved an amendment to the amendment that the basis of representation be one delegate for 5,000 people, and an additional delegate for for every county exceeding 7,500 people, and so on in proportion.

Mr. S. M. Smith strongly objected to the latter amendment. The farming population of Illinois did not reside in towns and cities; they lived upon the prairies and the farms. If the COUNT FOSCO AND THE REV. REOWN.

The following telegrams sent by Count Fosce to Parson Brown at the time the former thought the latter was acting as his agent for the purchase of the Harwood estate, show the state of his mind white endeavoring to negotiate a loan to meet the first payment on the investment. It may be well to explain that Mr. Chittenden was induced to propose Harwood by the expectation of realizing largely from his share of the profits on the DeGolyer & McClelland contracts, just then secured through the influence of Brown and Kirtiand. At that period the Count was ready to go into any sort of outerprise from the purchase of a $225,000 country seat to the building of a trans-continental railroad. His first telegram to Brown reads time:

Mr. Cossey, of Jefferson, favored Mr. Smith's suggestion.

Mr. Loomis, of Adams, thought the question was a vitatione, and thought the farmers alone should be represented in the Convention, but he could see only one remedy, and that was the motion which called for a representation of one from every 10,000 people.

After some further argument the amendment on that basis was also withdrawn, and, after a proposed amendment by Mr. Fitzpatrick, of McLean, had bean tabled, Dr. Hooton offered the following substitute:

Resolved, That the Siate Convention shall be constituted of one delegate from each county, and one delegate from every 500 members of agricultural or industrial organisations in each country.

Gen Beaute and he would decorate on the state of the seed as the could not help thinking that the Grand Army had deliberately withdrawn from the Association. Hence, the best thing to do would be to adjourn.

The Chair said the sole object of the Association was to do good. They could do more good individually then as an organisation. The members who paid their initiation fees regarded them as donations to the decoration fund, and would be as willing that the Grand Army should have it as the Association.

The motion to appoint a committee to confer with the Grand Army was voted down.

Maj. Wood made a notion that, insented as there had been some disagreement between this Association and its purpose misunderstood by those who were accustomed to lead in decorating graves, the Association be disbanded, and the Treasurer be instructed to return the mistage collected to donars thereof.

The motion prevailing, the meeting adjourned.

THE PLOW MEN.

The plow-manufacturers of the Northwest are helding their semi-annual convention at the Matteson Hodge. This organization has for its objects the control of that branch of industry, and has hitherto been enabled to meintain pricelists and establish time of selling, discounts, etc. It has met with considerable resistance from the Granger organization, and is not without internal dissensions, consequent upon the condicting nature of the interests represented. It does not embrace all the plow-makers, but many of the prominent cines, among whom the following were represented yesterday: The Moline Plow Company, Deere & Co., Parlin & Orndorff, T. & H. Smith & Co., T. D. Brewster & Co., Furse & Bradley Manufacturing Company, Marshaffer, Dent & Co., Happood & Co., Briggs & Eucoh, T. Cummins & Co., Morrison & Bro., Weir Plow Company, Monitor Plow Company, Orchard City Manufacturing Company.

At the hour of convening, T. D. Brewster, Eq., was elected Presiden, pro tem, and Col. Henry P. Noble was called upon to act as Secretary.

Dr. Boyd made a motion that, in Sview of the THE PLOW MEN.

Is seems that the distinction that the Methodiat Church has hitherto enjoyed, of being without a sensation in these times when theological bembabils are bursting all around the horizon, is at length to be atomed for by the concussion; the intrest kind of an explosive in the Add Street Mothodist Church. The political outlook in Oregon has been very lican and Democratic forces in opposition to the Independent ticket recently put in the field by the Reformers. Here, at last, the issue is clear-ly defined. It is party against principle. The people are asked to decide bether the politicians or themselves are the governing power in this country. When the sovereign people kick against the sovereign ns, a change of dynasty cannot long be deayed. In California, it has already taken place, nd the other States in the Far West are likely to follow the example there set. It will be an matter for the Reform movement to sweep stward and carry before it the wrecks of both ional Senate yesterday over the proposition to deresse the appropriation for the relief of rom $90,000 to $150,000. Mr. Alcorn wished ne relief money to be disbursed by the State officials, or of any comm they might appoint. The money appropriated, he said, ought to be ex-pended in repairing the levees, thus roviding against future overflows and furnish ng employment to the sufferers. Mr. Alcorn's speech resulted in a reconstruction-debate, and the bill was finally recommitted. If his alleand then the provision of means by which relief can be extended to the deserving people of the Gooded region promptly and without waste.

Several witnesses for the prosecution in the Swing trial were examined yesterday. Prof. Patton stated incidentally that his object in calling certain of them was to establish the specion which alleges that Prof. Swing's preso ing has been so equivocal as to occasion doubts among his ministerial brethren concerning loxy. In so far as this end was aimed at, Prof. Patton was successful; but the burden of the testimony elicited was unmistakably in the general interest of the defense. of the gentlemen examined had satisfied themselves of Prof. Swing's doctrinal soundness by personal interviews with him. It sible that Prof. Patton now seeks simply to justify his action in bringing on the trial. His avowal of an intention to show that Prof. Swing's preaching has been regarded by many ers of the Presbytery as " seriously defective" may be preliminary to a withdrawal of

A bill appropriating $3,000,000 in aid of the National Centennial celebration was before the House of Representatives yesterday. Mr. Kelley, of Fennsylvania, advocated its passage in a speech. His argument had relation propriety of national glorification on the n designated in the bill. He asked Conresimen to adopt E pluribus unum as their lying cry, and stand breast to breast in the interests of a common country. Mr. Hale urged two objections to the bill; first, that there is no in the Treasury which can be appropriated for the purpose named; and, second, tha Congress only agreed to recognize the scheme officially on the making of an explicit stipulation that no appropriation would be saked. These two points are well taken. hir. Kelley and other friends of the bill ought to exhaust the discussion suggested by Mr. Hale be-fore proceeding to consider the bill on its Rumor has settled upon the Hon. E. B. Washburne, now Minister to France, as the man whom President Grant will nominate to be Sec-retary of the Treasury in place of Mr. Richardon. It is extremely doubtful whether Mr. Washburne would consent to surrender a part of his present comfortable salary and run the risk of thwarting his Presidential aspirations by coming home to take a seat in the Cabinet. Any course that he might adopt with regard to the currency question would alienate thousands of voters. In France, on the ther hand, he is out of the range of popular lamor. In the meantime, it is fair to in what has become of Mr. Richardson. He left Washington "for his health" a few days before the report of the Ways and Means Committee or the Sanborn case was sent in to Congress. He has not since been heard from. Every day by which his absence is prolonged gives probability to the conjecture that he will never return Washington as Secretary of the Treasury.

The monetary article in the Inter yesterday makes an astonishing confession for an advocate of inflation, viz: that the rates of interest are extremely low in this city. This is only a matter of fact, it is true. Still, the Inter-Ocean deserves credit for telling the truth about it, the more so as this fact is of itself an entire refutation of its own views, as well as of those of Mesars. Scammon, Logan, Morton, et al., on the currency question. If interest is low. then money, or rather loans, are plenty and trade is good. The Inter-Ocean endeavors to explain away the fact of the low rate of interest by astributing it to a lack of confidence. Lack of confidence, we would inform our contemporary, manifests itself in high rates of interest or dis count, in bankruptcy and panics, not in low rates, or in the fact that "the country bank deposits with their correspondents are very large." The rate of interest is lov because there is more capital offered in loan than is demanded,—in other words, becauthere is more wealth being produced than co numed. This is a healthy state of affairs, ar a piece of information for which Logan will not, perhaps, thank his organ. We find it difficul in the light of these facts to understand what that paper means by saying tha "It is the duty of Congress to let the people have just as much currency as they want or imagine they want." A pretty pass we have tion at that, is to be put at the helm of the Ship of State. According to the new financial science of the Inter-Ocean, the greater the lack of confi dence the lower will be the rate of interest By all means let the lack of confidence be in finite!

THE INDEPENDENTS

Those who have believed that the far were not going into politics (in spite of the fac that they carried a majority of the counties i this State at the last county elections) will have their eyes opened by the proceedings of the ing. This meeting was of the Advisory Com were sixty-five delegates present, repre senting fifty-two counties. One after another the delegates declared either that ndependent political action, or that their constituents were strongly inclined that way. And when the vote on this question was taken, there were only two delegates who preferred the bonds The entire proceedings of the day show beyond a doubt that the farmers of this State have concluded that the War of the Rebellion is over, and that there are now other battles to fight in the cause of political inde pendence, (reform, and economy against the common enemies of corruption and monon ly. The men who met at Bloomington yeste day partially represented 1,216 Farmers' Clubs that have been formed in this State, and they claim the political co-operation of 200,000 voters, or nearly two-thirds of the voting population of the state. However this may be,whether the Bloomington Committee over estimated the strength behind them or not,there was an unmistakable unanimity in the de sire to shake off all old political bondage and start out anew.

The Advisory Committee, possessing full an thority from the Decatur Convention, have called a Convention at Springfield, Wednesday, June 10, seven days prior to the meeting of the regula Republican Convention. The basis of represen tation agreed upon finally, after muc cussion, was one delegate for every 5,000 of population. The objection urged to this basis was the danger which occurred to some of the gentlemen that the politicians might thus b enabled to "gobble" the movement. A good answer was made to this the delegate who said that any man attend the Independent Convention at Springfield wor certainly be read out of the party to which he had previously belonged. Nor was the apprebension concerning the delegations from large cities well-founded. There is a powerful antimonopoly, anti-caucus, and anti-corruption element in the cities and towns as well as rural districts, which is equally disgusted with the frauds that are being exposed from day to day in Washington, and with the party-spirit which would hold down the people to the abuses they have borne too long. The farmers would commit a serious error in arraying themse against the cities and towns, where they will find genuine sympathy and material co-opera-tion with every honest effort to inaugurate new era in American politics.

It was the province of this Advisory Committee to decide whether or not the farmers should take independent political action, and, in case of a decision in the affirmative, to call a conention and fix the time and place. This has been done. Between now and June 10 the can-vace will be made which shall decide the prinwill undoubtedly exert a large influence on the Legislative and Congressional elections next fall. At all events, political independence has been emphatically declared.

THE SANBORN CONTRACTS. The report of the Ways and Means Con pen the blackmailing Sanborn contracts, which was printed in THE TRIBUNE of yesterday, more confirms the charges upon which the inrestigation was based and develops an utte poseness in the administration of the law, and an indifference to palpable schemes of corruption and plunder, which are surprising even at this lay when dishonesty is the rule. There are four ent facts developed by this report which show the extent and unblushing character of Sanborn's operations, and the manner in which they were winked at in the Treasury Depart-the law, Secretary Boutwell directed that parties applying for contracts should set forth in a office, the character in detail of the claim, the name of the person, firm, or corporation witholding money, the laws by violation of which by which the claim is to be supported; upon doing which a written contract will be made upon such terms and conditions as he shall States." This order was persistently ignored and not even recognized by Sanborn as worthy of a moment's consideration. When he applied for his railroad contract, he furnished a list of 592 railroad companies taken from amanual, and, as he afterwards confessed, had knowledge o the delinquency of only 100 of them. The Treasury officials themselves required no affidavit, but simply told him it made no difference, and to put them all in." Acting on this advice, he ot only put all the railroads in, but he put verything else in. Banks, insurance compaies, and mercantile firms were put in by the wholesale, and thus his contract, which only alled for the collection of back taxes where delinquency was known to exist, was in reality into a permit to place every merca tile firm and corporation under suspicion, seize their books and papers, and to mail them. Under this illegal and monhe was sided and abetted by the carelessness Treasury officials, his power was absolute, and even more comprehensive than that of the Internal Revenue Bureau itself.

2. The law under which these contracts were nade provides for the employment of three persons to assist the proper officers in discovering and collecting,—the proper officers, of course being the Internal Revenue officers,—while contracts provide that the contractors may "proceed to collect," thus ig noring the Internal Revenue Bureau alto gether. Instead of Sanborn's assisting the Innal Revenue Department, the Internal Rev-The Secretary of the Treasury coolly ignored the nue. The whole power of the Internal Reenue Bureau, as well as the whole machinery the Government for the collection of taxes, was placed at his disposal. Orders were issued to Supervisors and Collectors of Revenue to aid him. Agents of Sanborn, who were not employes the Government, were empowered to demand the services of officers of the Revenue Bureau, and a secret-service detective was commission the Solicitor of the Treasury and place dat San born's disposal. Thus, in the first place, he was authorized, contrary to law, to blackmail in every direction : in the next place, he was provided with every appliance in the resources of the Government to carry on his infamous busi-

Treasury Department at his back, and the whole Internal Revenue Bureau at his command, it is not a matter of surpriso that Sanborn made a good thing out of it. The report says : "It is percentage, if not all of the $437,000 of the taxes collected by Sanborn, were not a proper subject of contract under the law, and that these taxes should and would have been collected by the officers of the Internal Revenue Bureau in the ordinary discharge of their duties." The elasticity of this contract is shown by the fact that when Supervisors Hawley and Simmons collected $10,000 from cartain taxes imposed by the Revenue laws, and not included in Sanborn's contract or any other contract, he put in his claim for 50 per cent of the collection, and the claim was allowed. 4. Who was responsible for this permission to override the proper officers of the Government. to usurp their powers, to ignore the law, and to practice blackmail with impunity? Upon this point the report of the Committee gives no hint. but at the same time it displays a laxity in the manner of conducting business in the Treasury Department which ought to bring down the severest censure upon all concerned, irrespective of any considerations of corruption. The Committee had before them the Secretary of the Treas ury, the Assistant Secretary, and the Solicitor The Secretary was entirely ignorant as to the manner of making the contracts, the administra tion of the law, or even the provisions of th law, and affixed his eignature to papers which came to him as a mere matter of routine. Th Assistant Secretary was 'equally ignorant on the same points, and affixed his signature in th same manner. The Solicitor shifted all responsibility, and shielded himself behind the excu that he was obeying the orders of his superior officer. How long would such looses and ignorance be endured in private business? Thus the most reckless care lessner and laxity went hand in hand with rascality, and aided and protected it in its schemes of plunder The bill reported by the Committee repeal the act providing for these contracts, annuls the contracts themselves, and prevents Sanborn from instituting any claims for damages guarantee for the future. But ought such criminal carelessness on the one hand and rascality on the other to go unpunished?

There is a little contest going on between S Paul and Minneapolis on the question of population. Each claims to be bigger than the other, and, as there is no big brother of their in Minnesota to measure them, each rests sati fied in the conviction that it is larger than the other. The latest account we have of the population of the two cities gives us the following

Ne peed not remark that the authority for these figures is not from Minnespolis. It is the St. Paul Press. Were it the authority from Minneapolis the figures would stand about as collows: follows:

Minnespolis 00,970
St. Fail. 00,545
25 would seem that there are some 18,000 olis. Were this done, every man would soon discover where he belonged. MORE CURRENCY BILLS.

Butler, of Massachusetts, has proposed a bill fixing $10 per capits of the population as a min-imum of apportionment of National Bank-note circulation, and authorizing the establishment of additional banks in States having less than that standard. In exchange for this extra bank note circulation, he proposes to retire the green backs until the whole amount shall be reduce to $356,000,000. Mr. Butler puts a "poor boy his bill by proposing that no Nation Bank shall ever receive over 7 3-10 interest Mr. Dawes has a bill authorizing the issue of new bonds bearing 434 per cent interest, to be exchanged for legal-tenders of the United States; the notes thus received to be issued again in purchase of the public debt, or in pay ment of Government expenses. The same bil authorizes free banking. Mr. Butler's bill contains a variety of other provisions which do not change substantially the features we have named. Free banking is proposed by several other bills before Congress.

The Senate Finance Committee has agreed upon a bill differing in many important particu-lars from any of those introduced in the House It fixes the limit of the legal-tender circulation at $382,000,000, which is about the amount no outstanding; authorizes the issue of $164,000,000 additional banking circulation, and provides that legal-tenders shall be retired in the proportion of $500,000 for every $1,000,000 of new circula tion taken up by the banks until the total volume of outstanding legal-tenders shall have been reduced to $300,000,000. The bill names Jan. 1, 1877, as the time for the resumption of specie payments. These provisions will be offered for ncorporation in the House bill which is now under consideration in the Senate. In case they are agreed to, the bill as it came from the House will be essentially altered. Instead of free banking, the increase of National Banking currency is limited, and this can only be obtained by a proportionate reduction of the outstanding legal-tenders. Either Mr. Butler's bill or Mr. Dawes' bill would be far more acceptable to the inflationists in Congress than the House bill so changed as to meet the views of the Senate

These various gentlemen do not seem to comprehend that the people who want inflation do not want an increase of National Bank currency; they want legal-tender Treasury notes. The argument they use is that they want greenbacks issued in sufficient quantity to reduce their value to 50 or 60 cents in the dollar, that they may pay their debts at that rate. To offer them National Bank-notes is a mockery, so long as the reenbacks remain worth 89 cents. They not only want Treasury notes, but depreciated Treasury notes, and the greater the depreciatio the better. Anything else is like offering these people stones when they ask for bread. The lowest amount of Treasury legal-tender notes lemanded by any of Mr. Logan's expansion organs in this State is a thousand millions of lollars, and, so far from these people being satisfied with an increase of National Bank-notes, they demand that the National Government shall seize all the national bonds deposited by the banks as security for circulation, and, after the bank-notes are surrendered, pay for the bonds in legal-tenders at par, They propose that that much of the public dept shall be paid off at once and "the interest saved." Of course this is rank repudiation. It means violation of national faith. But these are the people whose champions are Messrs. Logan and Oglesby, and thes are the people who claim to be "the West."

HAZING

The Faculty of the University of Michigan, seven students of the freshman and sonbor classes until next September, for the practice of that college nuisance known as "hazing."-a custom devoid of wit, or fun, or any other feature to redeem it, and usually practiced upon those who are too timorous to resent it. It has been more than once fatal, and has more than once permanently injured its victims. It is at best but a development of collegiate rowdy-ism, and very few students who have any gentlemanly traits of character have indulged in it without being schamed of themselves afteroutrageous of themselves, and which were aggravated by the subsequent rowdyish if not riotous proceedings of these students, the action of the Faculty has been very lenient. The discipline of the institution must be maintained, or the Faculty might as well quit their seats. It is very probable that the suspended parties will consider themselves as victims and martyrs, but they will not succeed in enlisting much sympathy outside the college walls. If, on the other hand, they devote the next two months to sensible reflection, they will undoubtedly return to college in September with the determination to comport themselves as gentlemen, and with the conviction that it is not a part of their duties to interfere with the government of the University. There are ample opportunities for fun and sport in college life without resorting to practices which partake very largely of the nature of both a nuisano and an outrage, which the victims are powerled to resent in any other way than by retaliation in kind upon others. WESTERN FINANCE. When in future a Western man introduce himself to his English consins across the water as hailing from Chicago, or any other Western city, it is morally certain he will be stared at as an intellectual curiosity by his English relatives. The slander has been spread abroad that the West wants inflation, and the slander, like lies generally, has traveled very fast, -so fast that the truth may not overtake it. Now, to Englishmen inflation appears always in its true character. John Bull has common sense, if he has anything. He is practical or nothing. He knows the difference between gold and paper, between money and a promise to pay money,—s promise which has not been redeemed, and one which is altogether indefinite as to the time of redemption. Englishmen have been taught that the East will not have inflation, but that the West wants it, and they have learned further to account for this desire on the part of the Western man by his intellectual calibre and character. Now, it is not true, and we have so maintained all the time in these columns, that the West desires inflation. Nor is it true, by any means, that Western men are fools. But the inflation organs have created the belief that we do want inflation and that we are fools. So the London Resolution for the Recoklyn member of Congress, called at the Western true, and we have so maintained all the time interview the ladies spoke of the large portrait of the President which adorned one of the rooms on the first floor. The President remarked that he didn't know where he should find a house hig enough to hold it when they should leave this. But," said Mrs. Woodford, "you will be elected for a third term, and this bouse will hald the pieture four years longer." "No," replied the President on the President remarked that we are fools. So the London Resolution of the President which adorned one of the rooms on the first floor. The President remarked that he didn't know where he should find a house hig enough to hold it when they should leave this. "But," said Mrs. Woodford, "you will be elected for a third term. It would be inflating my term at effect, and I will always vets inflation."

itself as one who believes that paper is as good as gold, and is a panacea for all commercial dis-trees; that a shinplaster applied to the wounds of trade cures them immediately; that the volume of a paper currency may be increased and still retain its full value; that by increasing its volume the rate of discount can be lowered; that "two sixpences are jointly more than one shilling," etc., etc. The Speciator has a very humble opinion of the Western man, and finds ever so much which the "Western man esmost see." The amount of folly, however, which the Western man can see, as if it were wisdom, and the quantity of nonsense which he can be-lieve, is simply enormous, according to the London Speciator. We would, for its edification, in form that journal that Western men do not at all believe that paper is anything but old rags of something else metamorphosed; nor that the moon is made of green choose. We would inform it farther, that the men who wish an increase in the currency, with some very few exception perhaps, know better than they teach, and that, f frank, they would confess that it is they who want more currency and not the country; that an issue of greenbacks, they hope, would heal their own and not the country's financial trouoles. As a bit of complative evidence bearing on the case, we present below the returns up to date the returns are the more favorable they are to complete showing will refute the libels that have een put upon us.

The "Beptennat" turns out to be a bad thing The "Septennat" turns out to be a bad thing for France. MacMahon's seven years' term was decided upon as a compromise between the establishment of a Monarchy and the formal adoption of the Republic. It was intended by this measure to divert the attention of French minds from the questions of the form of government, and concentrate them on those of more immediate interest to the country, such as those of finance and the tariff. All has been in vain, however. Roparartists are engaged watching of finance and the tariff. All has been in vain, however. Bonapartists are engaged watching Monarchists and Republicans; Republicans, Monarchists and Bonapartists; Monarchists, Bonapartists and Republicans. Each faction is afraid that one of the others will pocket MacMahon and his term of office. It is over five months since the "Septennat" was declared, yet nothing has been done for France, clared, yet nothing has been done for France, up to this time, in the way of legislation. The interests of the country are left to take care of themselves. All parties find to do is to look after their chances at the end of the term. It is scarcely probable that France can long postpone reconsidering the vote by which the Sentenpat was established.

This is a ponderous question, and one in which there are few precedents to guide the courts. Considering the advantage which a be-witching woman might have over a merely plausible man, and the superiority of smiles to syllogisms in winning a verdict from a jury, it might be dangerous to establish such a prece-dent. But if Mrs. Lockwood is admitted to practice, she should be put under bonds to be practice, she should be put under bonds to be logical, not verbose, and never to sigh or smile before Judge or jury during her whole professional life,—a breach of the condition to be punished by striking her name from the rolls.

LEWIS CLEPHANE,

President of the Metropolis Saving Company, came before the Committee this afternoon, accompanied by the books of the concern. He expressed great regret at being compelled to produce his books, and hoped the newspapermen would be prevented from examing them. He was ill at ease, excited, nervous, and altogether uncomfortable. He suggested that a private interview between himself and the Committee would be preferable to a public examination, but his wish in this last respect could not be gratified. The reason of the little man's unessiness was soon made apparent. It was contained in the record-book of the Paving Committee. The minutes of that volume explained among other things the motives which prompted certain Washington newspaper proprietors and editors to so fiercely and persistently attack the investigation, and the correspondents who make public the iniquities that have been practiced upon the tax-payers of the District and the General Government by the loard of Public Works. Very naturally, Clephane was anxious to suppress the contents of the minute-books of the Company, which declared a dividend of 400 per cent, and carried among its stockholders two newspaper new who never paid a cent on their stock, but apply shared in the profits.

THE METROPOLIS PAYING COMPANY, at appears from the minutes of the Secretary, consisted of fifteen stockholders, of whom twelve were available for assessment, and three were dead-heads. The capital stock is represented at $200,000, divided into shares of $100 each. Ten per cent of the Evening Star, is credited with twenty-five shares; S. H. depart in peace. He took the evening train for New York. This queer fellow possesses, in addition to many other qualities, the happy faculty of appreciating a good thing, even if said at his own expense. Encountering George Adams, of the New York World, and now the sole surviving partner of the Lewing Star, of this sit, at the Capitol, to-day, Kirtland nquired: "By the way. Mr. Adams, that are the people saying of my testimony?" Adams, who is one of the most considerate men in the world,—not wishing to injure the feelings area of such a fellow as Kirtland, replied evalued that he had heard very little discussion on the subject. "Well," retorted Kirtland, "I hapset a great many people about this city are aboring under the impression that I withheld. It is were, a good many things connected with the note business—in fact, that I did not give this Committee all the particulars of the transaction." "Oh, I dou't know," said Adams; "what makes yed think so?" "Because, you see, as I was passing through the rotunds, a little while ago, I met two gentlemen. One exclaimed to the other, saizing him by the arm and directing his attention to me, "There he goes." "Who?" reglied his companion. "Why, Kirtland, the damaedest liar in North America." This remark aroused my suspicions, and I think justifies my infarence that some people are not inclined to believe all that I have testified." The general impression seems to be that Kirtland is warranted in drawing the complumentary unference.

FINANCIAL.

WASHEGOON, D. C., May 5.—The Senate Finance Committee to-day took further action on the House Currency bill, and, by a majority vote, agreed to recommend the incorporation in it of the following provisions: The maximum greentant circulation to be $382,000,000. New National Bank notes to be issued to the amount of $164,000,000, provided that, for each million make new notes issued, there shall be $500,000 provided that, for each million such new notes issued, there shall be $500,000 provided that, for each million such new notes issued, there shall be $500,000 provided that, for each million such new notes issued, there shall be $500,000 provided that provided to $300,000. The Committee voted to fix is a 1,1877, as the date at which specie paymost should be resumed, but did not reach a sciencian as to what system should be employed for that purpose, whether by interchangeable bonds or by means of any of the clier plans proposed.

SUNDRY CIVIL APPROPRIATIONS BILL.

The House Committee on Appropriations to-day continued the consideration of the Sundry Civil bill. They agreed to largely reduce the light-house appropriation, and fixed the fee of Pension Agents for administering oaths at 20 cents, united of 30 cents.

ment was organized.

Mr. ALOORN said it was true his son was President of the Upper Leves Board, but it was also true that the district over which he presided was the only one not overflowed to-day. He took the office against his (Alcorn's) advice, but probably did so to prevent fraud, as the contracts were about to be given out, and he no doubt did save a large sum of money in that district. Bhould this appropriation be made now, the disbursement of it should be left solely with the Becretary of War, and not put into the hands of those who were itching to get hold of it, and from whom the negroes would get little of it. The officers in his State were not the choice of the taxpayers, and he would rather speal to the Secretary than to those satraps placed over the people. He charged that Gen. Ames had removed citizens from Boards in districts now overflowed, and put in their places persons who had defrauded the people.

Mr. TIPTON said when the discussion on this bill commenced he was told that the people of Mississippi ware suffering. It had been kept up as long that he now had serious apprehensions that they had expired, and he therefore thought the appropriation had better be made for funeral expenses. [Laughter.]

Mr. SARGENT moved to recommit the bill to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. PEASE said he deplored this reconstruction debate, which had been dragged in by his colleague. He desired to repail the insinuation that the money would be misapplied by the State officials. Gen. Ames was an honest man, and the people of Mississippi, without regard to political faith, gave him credit of being one.

Mr. Sargent's motion to recommit the bill to extend the time to pre-emperors on public lands in Minnesota to make final payment. Placed on calendar.

CIVIL RIGHTS BILL.

The Senate then resumed consideration of the Supplementary Civil Rights bill.

Mr. GORDON gave notice that he would submit an amendment to strike out the provision of the bill giving all persons full and equal enjoyment of the common schools

The Senats went into executive session, and soon after adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. DUNNELL, from the Committee on Public Lance, reported a bill providing that in the adjustment of all railread land-grants, if any of the lands granted be found in the possession of the actual settler whose entry or filing has been allowed under the Freemption or Homestead laws subsequent to the time when the right of the railroad company was declared to have sitached to such lands, the company shall be entitled to select an equal quantity of other lands in lieu thereof from any public land within the limits of the grant, to which the company shall receive title the same as though originally granted.

The bill was passed without discussion.

Mr. POSTEE offered a resolution instructing the Joint Committee on the Affairs of the District of Columbia to inquire whether any officers or employee of the United States or District Government have been employed in any conspiracy to defeat or hinder the investigation, and particularly to inquire into the circumstances connected with the late robbery of the safe in the office of the United States District Attorney. The resolution was adopted.

CENTESTIAL BILL.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole, Mr. HARRIS in the chair, on the Centennial bill for an appropriation of $3,000,000. Mr. KELLEY opened the debate, speaking of the accultive management of the Government. He spoke of $3,000,000 as a small appropriated for their international exhibitions. Yet it would be sufficient for the purpose. He wentured the prediction that the result would prove that Congress had never mades a more productive investment than this $3,000,000. Its influence would be felt in every State and Congressional District in the country. It would be sufficient for the purpose. Mr. GARFIELD [In a whisper]—He lives in the mountains of Tennesses, where the waters cannot reach him.

Mr. HALE denied that the executive branch of the Government was committed to the measure as a national enterprise. He warned the House that this appropriation was not the last that would be asked. The receipts of the Philadelphis exhibition would not be $1,000,000. He believed that the deficit would not be less than $10,000,000. Congress would be asked to pay the deficit, and at last—worn out and tired, like Merlin, of the importunities of Vivian—Congress would give way, and vote money in order to have peace.

Mr. PACKARD followed with a speach in advocacy of the bill, which he said commended itself to his judgment, his festings, and his patriotism. He argued that the Government was committed to the exhibition as a National enterprise.

Mr. TERMAIN advocated the bill, and said the Government sanction had been bestowed on the enterprise.

The Chamber of Commerce of St. Paul, Minn., is organizing a stock company with a capital of $250,000 to $500,000, to encourage the establishment of important branches of manufacturing there, by loans of part of the capital required or by direct investment. The plan, as presented at a public meeting night before last, met with much favor, and the projectors think the stock will be all taken at an early day.

The officers of the Union Pacific Railroad Company say that the Company is about to develop its mineral lands more than enough to supply the demands of the United States for the article. It is on the line of the road, and is near the surface of the earth, and, therefore, the expense of mining and shipping it will be slight. The Company also intends building a rolling-mill for the purpose of making its own rails from ore which is found in large quantities on the line of the road.

per cent is still quotes as the market terms to their own satisfaction. Call loans can be finded in more than one quarter at 5 per cent.

New York exchange was dulk selling at par to the premium per $1,000. Foreign sterling at par to the premium per $1,000. Foreign sterling exchange is quoted at $4.85@4.91.

Stocks were unateady in New York, but there was no noteworthy decline at the closing rates. The fall in the market affords an opportunity for speculation, taken advantage of by operators here, who have ordered by telegraph the purchase of large amounts of stock.

The burning of the mail for New York which left Chicago on Saturday at 5:15 p. m. by the Fittsburgh & Fort Wayne Endroad, is a matter of serious inconvenience to our bankers and business men. That man contained at least $2,500,000 of drafts, bills of exchange, and other remittances to New York. The drafts of large amount, of which there were several for $100,000, and those between banks, can be replaced without much difficulty, but to duplicate the smaller ones, and those bearing several indoorsenate, will take a great deal of time and trouble. Scores of letters were written by each of the larger banks of overnments, and those bearing several indoorsenates, will take a great deal of time and trouble. Scores of letters were written by each of the larger banks will clapse before it is fully settled.

GOVERNEENT ASSAY OFFICE AT CHICAGO.

The House Committee of Colmarc unanimously recommended a short time ago the establishment of an Assay office at Chicago by the Government. No action has yet been taken on their recommendation, but representatives of the State have little doubt that it will be adopted. The affect of the establishment of an Assay office would of course cease operations. Chicago now has smelting works with a daily capacity of 40,000 oz.

New Yorks AND CHICAGO.

Assay office, the Swansea assay office would of course cease operations. Chicago now has smelting works with a duity capacity of 40,600 cm.

New York AND CHICAGO.

The publication in this column of the facts of the direct importation by Chicago merchants of a large part of the ten and coffee distributed at this point, has attracted attention in New York. The Journal of Commerce of that city reprints the article on coffee with the significant heading. "The New York Fulletin has its doubt about the permanence of the trade. We quote to remarks without comment. The future of the toroign commerce of Chicago will be determined by the same "inexorable laws of trade" that we called it into being, and not by any controversy:

Withdrawn from store yesterday for city consumption: 1,726 bu wheat; 11,380 but corn; 4,353 bu oats; 345 bu rye; 375 bu barley.

The following grain hise been inspected into store this morning up to 10 o'clock; 103 cars wheat; 133 cars corn; 6,100 bu high mixed; 1,560 bu No. 2, and 5,800 bu rejected do, by caral; 10 cars rye; 2 cars barley. Total (247 cars), 117,000 bu. Inspected ont; 76,481 bu wheat; 131,121 bu corn; 57,286 bu oats; 1,022 bu rye; 1,420 bu barley.

If it was necessary to count the money a few months ago, it is certainly advisable to count the pork here now, that the doubts and feare which sway the pork crowd may be allayed. It is suggested that it would be well to appoint a committee to see whether or not there be some 50,000 bris more on hand than was stated in the last account of stocks, made up from figures reported by the packers.

It is reported that a certain transportation company, which connects with the N. C. R. R. at Ogdensburgh, is now charging only 600 per 100 has on grain from Toledo to Boston, while exacting 60 from Chicago to Boston. On corn these figures are about 21% c and 16% c per bu, which is a rather heavy disciplination against this city, and is stated to have caused the withdrawal of several orders for corn from this market.

Flour was active, under a better demand for shipment, though exporters held off till late in the sension, hoping for lower prices. It is probable that most of the sales were made at a slight concession from former Squyes, as is generally the case when reported "on p. t." There was also a fair inquiry from the local trade. Bran was steady. Sales were resorted at 100 bris spring critres at $6.50; 100 bris spring

The Elgin Dairy Market.

Special Disputch to The Chicago Tribuna.

ELGIN, Ill., May 5.—The Board of Trade cales were quite light to-day, the market being very bare of good cheete, and better prices were obtained that we quoted last week. We quote 511 brs sold, aggregating 22,341 lbs, at 18g41546 for Elgin cream. A large falling of in thatter is reported. To-day 1,700 lbs prime factory were offered and sold at 36g. 36g. No dairy butter was reported, though quotations remain the same as last week. More buyers were in attendance to-day than sellars. The Board of Trade will be held hereafter at Houghand's Hall. Total sales, $3,938.48.

Special Disputch to The Chicago Tribune.

ELot. v. Ill., May 5.—Considering what a unmer and variety of associations have been organized from time to time in this State, having for tized from time to time in this State, having for their object—to speak it figuratively—the making of two by ides of grass grow where one grew before, or, lites ally, the material well-being of man and woman, it has frequently been remarked as a singular circ, umstance that Illinois, alone among the States of the East and West, should have never boasted or a society for the cultivation, propagation, and protection of fish. There are farmens, association s of all sorts there. e farmers' association s of all sorts, there are drymen's associations, choese and butter men's dairymen's associations, a neese and butter men's associations, fruit-growers associations,—all kinds of agricultural, horticultural, and other societies, too numerous to glance at. And yet, strange to say, fish has been entirely neglected up to the present time, although it is a well ascortained fact that the waters of Illinois are as ned fact that the waters of Illinois are as dapted for the breeding of food-fish of all ies as any of her sister States. Our streams made to teem again, if proper laws were enacted for their protection. Not only have there been Here, however, as in so many other cases of squal importance to mankind, Elgin comes, to the rescue to redeem the State from impending liegrace. It may be quite superfluous to remind people that Elgin is an energetic, bustling, thriving, persevering little town. It has started, to stered, and encouraged more industries, percaps, than any town of its size. It has a watch actary, a cheese factory, woolen factories; it has me manner, and a fire fiend. And now it has fish conds, and vesterday it formally inaugurated and organized a fish culturists' association.

THE GATHERING.

The thing was done in the Town Hall in an off-hand, almost informal manner, as if it were a matter of every-day occurrence for this remarkable submit to project and perfect enterprises for the benefit of the human race. A call had been issued to all who took an interest in the product, and in response there assembled quite a number of gentlemen, re presenting some of the acet important counties in the State. Among those who came were Col. K. K. Jonés, of Duincy, Ill.; Nathan E. Ballon, of De Kalb County; Dr. W. A. Pratt, of Elgin; H. Gifford, Elgin; S. M. Church, Rockford; C. I. Horsman, Rockford: M. J. B. Hawkins, tankakee; D. G. Bean, Kankakee; S. W. Raymond, Ottawa; David H. Denny, Kankakee; sames M. Pyatt, Chicago; S. H. Steward, Konfall County; Jr. Le Baron, Millington; La salle County; Dr. E. Baron, the State Entonologist; Homer Wattles, MaHenry County; Charles H. Atkins, Chicago; David S. Hamnond, Cook County; Lewis Ellsworth, Naperfile; and others interested in the movement.

mond, Cook County; Lewis Ellsworth, Naperville; and others interested in the movement.

DR. PRATT,

who was mainly instrumental in bringing together the gentlemen, was awaiting their arrival this morning at the Elgin depot with a 'bus and several buggiet to convey them to his fish-farm, where they could enjoy themselves by first watching, then catching, and then eating some of the cholocest specimens of brook tront before proceeding to business. This occupied several agreeable hours of a delightful day. Dr. Pratt's farm is situated on a high ridge, about two miles north of the limits. Here he has devoted himself for feur years or so to the artificial proparation of trout and salmon. The grounds seem to have been naturally adapted to such a purpose,—a well-wooded hill-side, slopping down into several ravines, through which a plentiful stream pursues its break-neck journey, forming a succession of cascades. Dr. Pratt availed himself of these natural advantages, by constructing a number of artificial ponds,—there are now twenty-nine of them,—in which to cultivale his favorite and profitable pursuit.

has devoted a portion of them.—In which to chitavate his favorite and profitable pursuit.

has devoted a portion of his farm to the same purpose, and these, it appears, are the only important places devoted to this brauch of culture of which Northern Illinois can boast.

The visitors were enthusiastic over the sight of the trout in these ponds. There were not very many varieties, but there were large numbers of them, and each pond contained specimens of grayling, brook trout, and salmon, ranging in the matter of age from the spawn up to 3 years old.

From the conversation heard around the pond among the gentlemen, it was inferred that Dr. Pratt had been excessful in demonstrating several important facts in relation to the breeding of trout in Illinois waters, and in exploding not a few fallacies. He has shown, for instance, that brook trout can be cultivated in bard water as well as in soft, and that they can live and flourish in a temperature higher than 65-and as high as 80 degrees.

A YISH DINNIR.

After wandering among the ponds and seeing the trout fed, and admirity the scene, and bless.

After wandering among the ponds and seeing the trout fed, and admiring the scene, and blessing Mr. Pratt for the privilege of letting them see such a sight, "which was worth the journey," said the man from Quincy, the company proceeded to the Doctor's house, where they were hospitably entertained by his mother and suster at an excellent fish dinner. This was a dainty way of preparing men for an afternoon session.

THE CONVENTION.

About 2 o'clock the delegates assembled in the fown Hall, and, without much formality, the neeting was, called to order by Dr. Pratt, who nade the following remarks upon the occasion:

Isuppose we have come together to-day for the purpose of discussing the merits of artificial propagation of fish, and the profits of fish culture in Illinois; to form a flab-culture association, and devise means by pose of discussing the merits of artificial propagation of fish, and the profits of fish culture in Illinois; to form a fish-culture association, and devise means by which we can perfect laws for the protection of fish and fish-culturists, and ascure better qualities of fish for restocking our depicted lakes and streams. It is claimed by old fish-culturists in the East that one acre of water, from 3 to 6 feet deep, will produce more food than three acres of land. That may be the case in some of those Eastern farms, but I very much doubt if an acre of water will produce as much food as three acres of the rich prairie soil of Illinois. It is probable, however, that there is more money in an acre of good water property stocked with fish, than in three acres of land. The great advantage gained by artificial hatching of fish segs, for that almost all the most valuable fish segs, for that almost all the most valuable fish see those that lay their eggs in the fall are those that take a long time to hatch, so that a much smaller pegsat of the eggs are hatched, naturally, thanamon githose which deposit their eggs in the spring.

Among the fash now commonly known that deposit in the fall, the trout, salmon troot, and whitefish are the most valuable varieties. The eggs of the salmon and trout require about averenty days to hatch, and the whitefish forty days, according to the temperature of the water. The things detrimental to the hatching of these eggs are deep water, the sun, sediments, and water-mice. It is estimated that not one in 500 acres. these vater. Some four years ago, when we commenced building our ponds and excelling our that the control our natching-houses to grow trout in Illimois, the idea was recipied at bott. inshouses to grow trout in Illinois, the idea was ad at, but the only argument that could diduced against it was that they were there, and that trout would not a hard water. Now it is a question long settled trout do as well in hard as in soft water. Seth a has salmon 2 years old grown in fresh water, it had always been considered that salmon would thrive in salt water. The aggs of fish that apawn as pring are hatched in from three to afteen days a spring are hatched in from three to afteen days.

one acres of water in Illinois, and if property stockes with fish, one can hardly resilize the value it will prove in producing food for the people.

I can assure you, gentlemen, this is a master of no small importance, and you will resilize it in the future, if you do not now. I consider we have assembled here to day for a most worthy object, and we are certainly entitled to quite an amount of fish-eggs from the United States Fish Commissioner if we had fish commissioner to care for them. Michigan has hatched a large amount of California samon, and they will do well in all our small lakes. There are other varieties much more valuable for food than any we have that will do wall in our waters. And the only way to secure will do well in our waters. And the only way to secure these is to have legislative action.

On motion, Col. K. K. Jones was called to the chair. In thanking them for the honor, the Colenel remarked that he was one of those men who had a hobby. By the way, he never knew a man who pretended to amount to anything who had not a hobby, and he thought, moreover, it was a good thing to have if it lay in the direction of progress and of doing good for the people. Instead of being the cheapest, as it ought to be, fish was the dearest, article of food in Illinois. He hoped to see the day when it would be the cheapest. This Convention was a promising beginning, and he trusted the movement would be conducted in such a way as to draw public attention to the subject. He could see no reason why hundreds of farmers should not be able to go to their fish-ponds for daily food, as well as to their hen-roosts for eggs. The primary object of this meeting was to organize, and all these things might be fullfilled in the future.

On motion, Messrs. Ballou, Pratt, and Steward were chosen a committee a draw up a constitution. They retired, and, while they were deliberating, the Chairman asked Mr. Hammond to express his views on fish culture.

express his views on fish culture.

Mr. Haumond said he had tried salmon and speckled arout, but he had not extensive enough arrangements to take care of very many different sizes. Salmon were the hardiest, he thought. There was a difficulty in taking care of trout, as there was great damer in overfeeding them. He fed his trout with liver. After three years he had found they fatted very fast, and moldy spots came out all over them. When the skin was broken it was sure death. In spawning time they fight a good deal, and a bruise was apt to kill them.

THE CONSTITUTION.

Here the Committee returned and reported the following Constitution : following Constitution:

Ass. 1. This Saciety shall be known as the Illinois State Fish-Cultur; its' Association. Its objects shall be to promote the cause of fish-culture; to gather and diffuse information bearing upon its practical success; the interchange of friendly feeling and intercourse among the members of the Association; the uniting and encouraging of individual interests of fish-culturists. among the me and encour

ART. 5. Seven members of the Association shall constitutes a quorum for doing business.

ART. 6. The Constitution of the Association may be altered, amended, or repealed by a two-thirds vote of the members present at any regular meeting.

PROTECTION.

Mr. Church, of Rockford, suggested that the idea of fish-protection was an important element in framing the Constitution. He wanted some system adopted that would stop the draining of our rivers by seining. The only roason he could see why the Statehad not passed a law about this was on the supposition that fish was only useful for the amusement of a few sporting gentlemen of leisure. Fish was an article of food, and all nations were directing their attention to this matter. He was anxious for the protection to food-fish in all parts of the State, and he asked that this idea be included in the Constitution.

It was accordingly done.

Mr. Church went on to remark that he had seen sometimes a wagon-load of black bass hauled with a single seine. In his own town, this once came to such a height that the Council had to pass an ordinance in regard to the removal of fish offal, which had become a nuisance, and threatened a pestilence.

The Constitution was adopted section by section.

The Constitution was adopted section by section.

Mr. Hammend suggested the drafting of some law to be presented at the Legislature for the protection of food-fish.

Mr. Pratt said that could be done at the fall meeting of the Society.

FISH FOR THE EXPOSITION.

The Chairman stated that the Directors of the Exposition in Chicago were negotiating with Seth Green, of New York State, with a view to have an exhibition of fish. The State Agricultural Society had put a similar matter in the hands of a committee, of which he was one, and he thought the Society would give $1,000 toward building an aquarium.

Some conversation followed upon the subject.

The meeting then proceeded to elect permanent officers, with the following result:

President—K. K. Jones.

Vice-President—W. A. Pratt, Charles H. Atkins, Lewis Ellsworth, C. I. Horsman, S. W. Raymond, D.

B. Seen, D. S. Hammond,

Secretary—Nathus Bean, D. S. Hammond, Secretary—Nathan E. Ballou, Treasurer—G. H. Steward.

Treasurer—6, H. Steward.

SISCELLANBOUS.

Dr. Ballou presented an able and interesting essay on fish.culture, which was ordered to be incorporated in the proceedings of the Society.

On motion, it was decided to bold the next meeting at Peoria, during the State Fair, on Thursday evening of the fair week. The State Fair will be held in September, from the 14th to the 19th.

Hammond,
A committee of three—Messrs, Hammond, Ballou, and Steward—was appointed to prepare a law in relation to fish-protection, to be presented for the consideration of the next meeting.

A vote of thanks was tendered to D. Pratt for his hospitality.

On invitation of Mr. Hammond the delegates took a trip to the Hammond farm to look at the fishes there.

And in this happy manner the Convention adjourned.

RAILROAD NEWS.

The Iowa through lines continue to be con-cerned about the diversion of the Pacific busi-ness via the Chicago & Alton Railroad. The fact is, there are more reasons for the last move than appear on the surface. If Jay Gould should obtain control of one of the three Iowa lines, the pooling arrangement would soon be abandoned, and Gould's line would monopolize the business. Were there now but one line to Omaha instead of three from Chicago the business would certainly pass over it. The three lines would certainly pass over it. The three lines are the property of the chicago the barronize. Omaha instead of three from Chicago the business would certainly pass over it. The three lines do not harmonize. The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy is generally supposed to be a Joy road, yet Mr. Joy sanctions a contract that diverts the business entirely from the Burlington route. When asked to use their influence to dissolve the agreement, the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy officers say they find they can no longer make any impression upon Mr. Joy. The two other Iowa lines are in the Tracy interest, which is supposed to be identical with the Gould-Dillon faction. This gave rise to the prophecy that Mr. Dillon's accession to the Presidency of the Union Pacific would be speedily followed by Mr. Vining's retirement from the General Freight Department. But Mr. Vining sticks, and what most astonishes his opponents is that he should remain through successive administrations, and be alike potential with each. Such a man, of course, must have unusual ability. He was sent to Omahs by Col. Thomas A. Scott; was retained by the late Horace F. Clark, who seemed to have great confidence in thim; was equally trusted by John Duff, and already seems to have ingustiated himself into President Dillon's favor. His permanence in office amid all changes is only equalled by his tenacity of purpose. Still, he may fall, and when he does, if not before the lowalines will regain their lost business.

The General Freight Agents of our railroads leading to the East have held snother meeting, at which it was decided to make a further increase in freight rates on fourth class, flour, and grain to New York, Boston, Philadelphia, and Baltimore. The rates adopted are as follows:

They will go as far as Kearney, where a large depot and freight-honse is now erecting. The transfer-sheds are nearly completed, and will be 1,800 feet long. The managers of the Alton Road claim that they will be able to carry freight just as fast as can be done by the lows lines, their time to Kearney being only seventy miles longer than that of the other roads, which distance they can easily make up by increased speed.

The Rock Island Aryus of the 4th publishes a long article in regard to the difficulties of the Rockford, Rock Island & St. Louis Railroad, and claims that Mr. Osterburg, who has recently arrived in this country to investigate the affairs of the road on the part of the German bondholders, as not yet well enough informed to say whether the business of the road had been well managed or not. It states that the net receipts under the present management, from the day Mr. Cable took possession, tell a different tale from the Boody management the netwarnings were about $180 a month. THE WISCONSIN RAILROAD FIGHT.

Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribuna.

MADISON, Wis., May 5.—In regard to the railroad matters, the Governor has taken no further action since his proclamation. It is understood that he is ready to support and aid the Railroad Commissioners so far as he can, and in certain possible emergencies have the Attorney-General commence or aid in the prosecutions of railroads resisting the law. The Railroad Commissioners have accepted their appointments, filed their bonds, taken and subscribed the oath of office, met to-tay, and completed their organization. Maj. H. A. Tenney, of this city, late of the St. Paul Pioneer, and an old resident of that State, an energetic worker and experienced investigation, was appointed Cierk. There was a general interchange of views in regard to the work to be done, and how to do it, but nothing definite enough to be reported. It is intended to move carefully and systematically, with the plan of operations thoroughly mapped out. The first business will be to provide sources of information on railroad reports, tariffs, etc., which the Clerk is instructed to procure. The Board will have another session to-morrow, and, having established an office in the cld Bank Comptroller's office in the Capitol, may be reached at almost any time.

It is reported that a party at Arena, lows County, has brought suit against the Milwankee & St. Paul Road for refusing to ship cattle at legal rates. A good many people want to ride for 3 cent, but few insist on it.

Milwaukker, May 5.—Petitious are in circulation in different parts of the State, in favor of repealing the Railroad laws. The roads are charged with instigating this movement, but, being interviewed, deny it.

Boston. May 5.—The New York & New England Railroad, which succeeds to the property and the debts of the old Hartford & Erie, is at last in a condition to prepare to take its place as a corporation, and take the property from the Trustees of the bankrupt corporation. The Committee, at the special meeting of the corporation today, reported that the debt of the Trustees which must be acquitted ere the property can be taken possession of, was $478,500; but there is a debt of $250,000 and interest due July 1. The whole amount of incumbrances upon the 200 miles of completed and 65 of unfinished road, which cost over $20,000,000, is $3,777,698. The Committee recommended the issue of $10,000,000 twenty or thirty year 7 per cent bonds at par, subscription books to be opened. Their recommendations were adopted, and substantial subscriptions and aid promised, notably from Mr. Homer Ramsdell, of Newburgh, N. Y. As soon as the necessary rellingstock is procured, this road will shorten the time to New York at least thirty minutes.

SALE OF A RAILROAD IN PENNSILVANIA.

SPILLADELPHIA, May 5.—On the 13th of last December, suit was brought by James Pollock and Edward P. Mitchell, in the Niss Prius Court, to recover on a mortgage executed and delivered by the Sunburry & Lewistown Railroad. The Court, to satisfy the mortgage executed and delivered by the Sunburry & Lewistown Railroad. The Court, to satisfy the mortgages, decreed that the road be sold at public sale at noon to-day in the Merchants' Exchange. The whole line of railroad ordered to be sold begins at the cast side of the Susquehanna River, in Northumberland County, opposite Selim's Grove, and ends at Lewiston, Mifflin County, a distance of 42 miles, together with all its appurtenance; real estate, tracks, stations, stock, etc. The road after great competition, was sold for $551,000, subject to a mortgage of $1,200,000.

Miscellaneous Business Tran Yesterday.
Judge Drummond delivered a decision yesterday in the case of C. J. Hamilton against the Home Insurance Company. The complainant filed the bill to enforce a verbal contract alleged. to have been made with the Company. It appears that his policy ran out about seven days before the Great Fire in 1871. Shortly before this, Parsons, renewal solicitor of the defendant, called on Dunning & Easton, agents for the complainant, to see about a renewal. Easton told Parsons to renew, and the lat-ter said, "All right," and made some kind of a memorandum at the time in a book. On this agreement the suit is prought. The Judge held that, as there was time in a book. On this agreement the suit is brought. The Judge held that, as there was a clause in the policy that it should not be valid unless the presaium was paid, very strong evidence ought to be shown to prove that this condition was waived, even assuming Parsons' authority to waive the payment of the premium. The minds of both parties must come together,—the contract must be made by both, and it was insufficient that the complainant thought a renewal was made. The Company could not be bound by loose admissions or general consent, and he should therefore dismiss the bill.

THE GREAT WESTERN INSURANCE COMPANY.

C. W. Upton, assignee of the Great Western Insurance Company, filed a petition asking that he be allowed to sell the "outside" property of the bankrupt on canal terms,—one-third cash, balance one, two, and three years at 8 per cent. An order was entered in accordance with the prayer of the petition, on giving notice in the newspapers of such sale.

ANOTHER PARTNERSHIP TROUBLE.

Peter Wolf and Peter Kauff filed a bill yester-day against their former partner, Bernhardt Essroger. They state that in March, 1873, they entered into a partnership in the lumber business with Essroger. They were to invest $6,000, and Essroger to give his whole time, without contributing any moasey, and not to engage in any other business. The partnership was formed, and they ultimately contributed, one $19,000 and the other $13,000. The business has been unprofitable, and has sunk over $3,700. Essroger also owes the firm $2,700 and over, by his own confession. He has lately broken his agreement, left his position, and gone into business with the firm of Fitzsimmons & Counell. Complainants therefore ask a dissolution of the partnership, an account, and an injunction to prevent Essroger from collecting the partnership funds. The injunction was granted by Judge Farwell.

Twenty attachments were issued yesterday against delinquents, and they will be brought up to-day for sentence.

MEMPHS, May 5.—It is proper to repeat the statement sent in these dispatches, that there is no suffering or destitution above Napoleon, which has not er is not being relieved, and care should be taken to send supplies to responsible parties at depots already established below that point, in order that they may be properly distributed. Planters from below were in the city to-day trying to procure hands, who confirm the previ-

The river at this point has fallen about two inches, and a steady decline is looked for. It is safe to state that, from New Madrid to the mouth of White River, on the Arkansas side, there is not a single plantation that is entirely submerged, while on the other side the damage is trifling, the levees in Tunca and Coohoma Counties, Mississippi, having thus far withstood the flood.

THE FLACK RIVER DISTRICT.

NEW OBLEANS, May 6.—Mr. O. S. Mardis, writing to the Picaguae from Black River, says the country is submerged deeper than it was in 1867. Among the people there has been great privations and suffering is some instances. Picture to your mind the condition of our locality, when helpless widows and children are condemned to fight against starvation with two and a half ears of corn a day. After mentioning other cases of destitution, the writer concludes: "But for the arrival of supplies from the Relief Committee of New Orleans, the suffering hore would have been intense. It thrills me with horror to contemplate what our condition would have been had not Heaven's sweet charity reached us in time. May the donors never know what it is to want. If they could witness the effect of their noble acts they would fully realize that it is more blessed to give than to receive."

RELIEF.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 5.—The Citizens' Committee telegraphed to New Orleans to-day authorizing a draft of $2,000 for the relief of sufferers by the floods. The contributions are still coming in. Collections will be taken up in the churches.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

grecial Dispatch to The Chicago Tribume.

YPSILANTI, Mich., May 5.—Suit was begun today in the United States Court for the Eastern District of Michigan, against the City of Ypsilanti, by Moses Taylor, of New York, to recover for coupons which became due April 1, 1871—2—3 and four, upon upwards of $30,000 of the issue of $50,000 voted by said city, in aid of the Detroit, Hillsdale & Indiana Railroad Company. These are the only bonds in the State delivered after the decision of the Supreme Court declaring the law unconstitutional. Meddough & Driggs, of Detroit, are attorneys for the plaintiff, and Albert Crane, City Attorney, will appear for the city.

Suit Against the Union Pacific.

New York, May 5.—In the suit of M. M.
Simpson vs. the Union Pacific Railroad, Jay Gould and others, Judge Douahue rendered a decision this afternoon. He denies defendants' motion to dismiss plaintiff's complaint for want of jurisdiction, orders plaintiff's surety for costs to be increased from $250 to $2,000, and refuses

NEW YORK, May 5.—Ex-Congressman John Morrissey and John Fox, both members of the Tammany Hall General Committee, met last evening in the bar-room of the Maison Dorse.

Their friendly talk gradually changed into a dispute, and culminated in a wrangle, each acousing the other of unfaithfulness and intrigue. At length Morrissey offered to bet
$5,000 that Fox, who is now a State Senstor, could not be re-elected or elected to any office in the city. Senstor Fox's reply was condition, and both clubs in good spirits.

The Hartfords led off with 3 runs, followed by the Athletics with 1 run. In the second inning the Hartfords obtained none; Athletics, I. In the third inning, Addy collided with the first-baseman, and spraiged his knee very badly. The Athletics refused to excuse him, and the Hartfords were weak for the rest of the game. Addy's spunk carried him through, however, though it is doubtful whether he will be able to play next Thursday.

The playing was good on both sides. Each club scored one error and lost two flies. Pike took third base on a splendid hit, and got home through a wild throw. The Athletics got one base through Mills' pitching, while McBride's was unexceptionable. Carey, of the Mutuals, unmpired very scoeptably. The time was 2 hours 20 minutes.

BUFFALO, May 5.—The two first vessels arrived by sail from Chicago this morning. They are the schooners John Miner and Clara Parker, both loaded with corn. The canal is in navigable condition. Superintendent Kelly having telegraphed this forenoon from Tonawanda that the canal is ready, and telling the officials at this point to send on their vessels. Twenty vessels have cleared in all: four loaded with wheat and the rest with staves and lumber.

QUEREC, May 5.—The first sailing-ship from England was at Envere Quelle yesterday. There is no tee in the gulf.

THARE RIVERS, Quebec, May 5.—The ice in the river is on the move. Lake St. Peters will probably be clear to-morrow.

This faternoon, at half-past 3 o'clock, the Chicago Club and the Red Stockings, of St. Louis, will meet on the grounds at the corner, of State and Twenty-third streets in a practice game. As this will be the first appearance of a professional organization in this city since last summer, a large audience is expected to be present.

The following table presents an analysis of the play of the members of the Chicago Club during their recent trip to St. Louis:

a Score of 10 to 9. Special Dispatch to The Chicago Trib played their second game to-day, and won their second victory by a score of 10 to 9. The weather was fine, the grounds were in good condition, and both clubs in good spirits.

The second race, mile heats, all ages, Club purse, $350. Quartermaster, B. F. Carrer, Emir, and Mary L. started. The following were the sales in the pools: Carver, 80; Emir, 70; Quartermaster, 65; Mary, 10. The contest was very fine, and in both heats Carver contested every luch of the ground. Quartermaster was the first by a neck and the second by a length. Emir was third in both heats. Mary L. was fourth, and distanced. Time, 1:49%, 1:46%. This was another first-class race, considering that the track was not fast. George H. Rice offered to match Stampede against any horse on the track for two miles. The Nashville party lost heavily.

CAPITAL AND LABOR.

Philadelphia Coopers Propose to Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 5.—The coopers this city held a mass meeting to night in Federal Hall, at which the Coolie paper was discussed. It appears that the employers lately presented to their hands for signature a paper binding the their hands for signature a paper binding the latter to discontinue all trades unions, and accept henceforward $2.75 as a day's pay. Martin Foran, of Cleveland, who is President of the International Coopers' Union, addressed the meeting at length, and counseled a firm resistance to the terms proposed. At this point, the reporters present were churlishly ordered to withdraw. The question of a general strike was discussed, and its early inauguration having been decided on, the meeting adjourned.

Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.

Landaster, U., May 5.—A large force of miners belonging to the union cleaned out the mines of W. B. Brooks, at Nelsonville, last night, destroying all the mining tools and blockading the entrances, so as to prevent the non-unionists from going to work to-day.
